

Data Management with QlikView

Apparo Fast Edit® is the web-based application for QlikView which allows for data to be entered, edited, deleted, imported from Excel documents or files to be linked with data records with ease.

Application areas of Apparo Fast Edit:

- Flexible, access rights controlled comments on reports and measure data. All user comments and selection values are stored in a database for later processing.
- Mapping of freely definable multi-level workflows featuring data entry via Excel, approval/rejection including comments, corrective action and auditing – all optionally integrated in reports or accessible via portal entries.
- Data maintenance & master data management per web browser, data integrity correction directly through the business departments.
- Entry and immediate analysis of plan measures, automatic aggregation on an annual and monthly level – without training expenditure!
- User-friendly import of 50000+ data records directly from Excel using copy & paste or complete Excel files incl. quality test.

Improved efficiency

- Multi-level data entry is implemented flexibly without complex Java or C# software development
- No manual document production: the QlikView report can now directly serve as a presentation incl. comments
- Simultaneous editing across departments or across borders, depending on the access rights
- Super simple to use – no training required

Higher data quality

- Data consistency: there is only one common pool in the database for QlikView reports and documents („single source of truth“), even if various business departments are working on it parallel.
- Minimisation of entry errors: entry mask only allows certain entry values and value ranges.

Uniform look & feel

- Apparo Fast Edit full integrates into the QlikView environment, data entry and output have the same visual appearance.

Security

- Apparo Fast Edit protects your data from unauthorised changes. Only specified user groups may modify data records.
- The QlikView system does not change, support remains fully preserved.
